Physical Environment Survey Readiness

The Care Environment Module

Empower your health care facility to leverage continuous code compliance in order to reduce potential mistakes discovered during compliance surveys.

Strengthen your facility's readiness for its next compliance survey by gaining deeper insight into accurate interpretation of code requirements provided by recognized experts/surveyors. Review the most common citations and best practices in inspection, maintenance, and documentation to prepare for your next smooth and worry-free survey.

Topics Covered in The Care Environment Module:

- NFPA 99, Health Care Facilities Code overview (2012 edition)
- Survey process
- Plan
- Safety and security
  - Hazardous materials and waste
  - Fire safety • Medical equipment
- Utilities
- Other physical environment requirements
- Staff competency
- Monitoring and improvement
- Associated K-tags
- Related accrediting organization standard

LEARNIG OUTCOMES

- Find and correctly interpret the application of the code requirements exposed during the survey.
- Address the most common citations found during compliance survey.
- Identify documentation requirements for inspection and maintenance at your facility.
- Assure continuous compliance with code requirements in the areas of life safety, emergency management and the patient care environment

This is an official ASHE program being hosted by SCSHE. Pricing, registration, and coordination of these events are determined by SCSHE. Registrations for this program are not transferable to other ASHE courses.
